

Native Children encompass 10% of the state's population, yet there are only

3%
Native Teachers

in New Mexico

CES LEAP & NISN

Indigenous Educator Pathway

NISN and CES LEAP have partnered to develop a statewide teacher pathway for 20 Indigenous educators. More than ever our New Mexico students need windows and mirrors in their classrooms, that is - teachers who share their lived experiences. This opportunity includes a full scholarship for professional development, integration of best practices in Indigenous Education, and wraparound support for indigenous alternative licensed candidates. Interested candidates will receive full-time pay and benefits as a teacher-of-record at a NACA Inspired school or in a local public school.

This opportunity is to support an Indigenous pathway narrowing New Mexico's classroom diversity gap. Join us and apply!

For more information, please contact:
Valerie Siow, Laguna Pueblo
Senior Director of Education & Transformation
NACA Inspired Schools Network
val@nacainspiredschoolsnetwork.org
505-933-3969 (work cell)